Murder and Suicide.

David Burhaus, coachman of Cornelius N. Bliss, of New York, took Mrs. Bliss for a drive yesterday afternoon, brought her back, and returned with the brougham to the stable at 142 east Thirty-ninth street.

Thomas Hegarty, the groom, and Burhaus's son Harry, who is nineteen years old, had been working around the stable all the afternoon. It was about 5 o'clock when Burhaus drove in. The horses were unhitched and he went upstairs to take off his livery. His wife and two younger children, a boy and a girl, were at home.

He greeted them somewhat gloomily, and, after putting on his working clothes, went downstairs again. Hegarty was cleaning the carriage. Harry Burhaus was in the harness room whistling and now and then joking with Hegarty.

The coachman went into the stable and looked over the horses. After a few minutes he went into the washroom. Hegarty was on his knees cleaning the back wheels of the brougham. His back was to Burhaus

Harry Burhaus happened to turn suddenly and saw his father's face, which, he says, was like a mad man's. Suddenly the coachman pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot at Hegarty. The bullet went through the door of the brougham. Hegarty had faced about and got part way to his feet, when Burhaus shot him in the head. He fell over and Burhaus shot him again in the head.

As Hegarty fell, Burhaus put the revolver to his own head and shot himself dead. Hegarty died in Bellevue Hospital.

It was from Harry that the police and Coroner Shrady got the story of the shooting. From what they could find out there was no reason why Burhaus should have killed Hegarty. There had never been any quarrel between them—not even harsh words.

Hegarty was of a cheerful disposition, but of late Burhaus had been very glum. His family said that he had been nervous. A year ago the Bliss family sent him away for a week. He stayed only a day. It was said that he came back because he was afraid that the horses were not being attended to properly.

It is thought that Burhaus was afraid that Hegarty might get his job, although there was no reason for thinking so. Cornelius N. Bliss, jr., said that he knew of no reason why Burhaus should have killed Hegarty

Crushed by an Elevator.

Mrs. Mary C. Wallace, a wealthy widow of Denver, Col., who has been living in Washington for the last 14 months, met with an accident in an elevator in the Capitol at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon that caused her death two hours later at the Casualty Hospital, where she was taken for treatment.

Mrs. Wallace, who is a friend of both Senators Teller and Patterson, had spent the afternoon in the Senate gallery watching the proceedings on the floor below. In leaving the gallery she boarded the public elevator. As the car passed the second floor the elevator was stopped to allow several passengers to alight. When the conductor supposedall were off who desired to get off he started the elevator and began to close the door.

When the elevator had gone a few feet Mrs. Wallace started to go out the door, saying that the floor just passed was where she wanted to get off. In attempting to step up to the floor Mrs Wallace fell, half her body being outside the cage and the other half inside. Before the elevator could be stopped she was caught between the top of the door and the floor of the Senate landing. Her body was mangled. When extricated from her position Mrs. Wallace was still conscious and did not lose consciousness until within a few minutes of her death. Dr. William P. Reeves was called and ordered the injured woman removed to the hospital. An examination showed that the abdomen had been torn open from one side to the other. No bones were broken.

Mrs. Wallace suffered intensely, but she was able to tell very little as to the manner in which the accident occurred. Mrs. Wallace was 56 years old.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons druggists.

House Work

Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration cause fearful bearing-down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism, has cured more than one million American Women, and it will cure you. When troubled with painful irregularities, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It Gave Me New Life and Vigor

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last spring, while we were moving, I did considerable more work than my strength permitted, and, having mental trouble at the same time, my health broke down completely and I found myself unable to rest or eat. My nervous system became shattered and I was pale and emaciated and had to take to my bed.

My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, although I had no faith in patent medicines, I was so miserable that I would take anything for relief, I found that it made a complete change for the better, inducing appetite and restful sleep and imparting new life and vigor to my entire system.

I gained nearly fourteen pounds, my complexion looked fresh and clear, and my best friends were surprised and pleased at the change and could hardly credit the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had accomplished it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Where Others Fail

Woman Accidentally Killed.

Fearing to face the husband from whom she had eloped, Mrs. Lora Crabb, only six months wedded, attempted to escape from Sheriff Walton, who had her as a prisoner on a Wrightsville and Tennille train near Dublin, Ga., and was shot and killed during the struggle. Mrs. Crabb fled from home Wednesday and the sheriff pursued her and a companion at the request of her husband. Mrs. Crabb was overtaken yesterday morning, and the sheriff placed her on a train to take her home. When the train stopped at a station near Dublin, Mrs. Crabb, screaming, "I can't face my husband," began to struggle desperately with the sheriff in an attempt to get away. During the struggle she managed to get hold of the sheriff's pistol. As the officer was trying to recover the weapon, it was discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Crabb in the forehead. She died in the sheriff's arms. When the husband was told, he said: "She need not have feared to meet me. I would have forgiven her."

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 30, 1906.

UNDER a red banner bearing the inscription, "The Russian Revolutionary Party," several thousand men and women of Russian origin gathered in Grand Central Palace in New York last night to honor and listen to Nicholas Tchaykowsky, a Russian revolutionist, who recently arrived in this country. Tchaykowsky comes to the United States not as the angel of peace, but the angel of war. He comes openly, with money to buy arms. There is no concealment of the object of his visit. Letters of regret from several prominent persons were held, among them one from Mark Twain, in which, among other things, he says:

"My sympathies are with the Russian revolution, of course. Cruel government for the aggrandisement of a single family of drones and its idle and vicious kin, has been borne quite long enough in Russia. Some of us, even of the white headed, may live to see the blessed day when Czars and grand dukes will be as scarce in Russia as I trust, they are in heaven."

People who have read "Innocents Abroad," Twain's chef d'ouvre, will remember that during his excursion to the Mediterranean he and others of the party went considerably out of their way to make a call upon Czar Alexander while the latter was residing in one of his rural retreats. The Russian emperor and his family received the American tourists in a cordial manner and one of the most entertaining chapters in "The New Pilgrim's Progress" is the description of the visit. A change, however, has come over the spirit of Twain's dreams since he has entered the sere and yellow leaf period of his existence, and now he does not desire to meet ill-fated Alexander in the realms we all hope to enter.

BISHOP CANDLER preached a short sermon before the Southern Methodist Conference at Cumberland, Md., yesterday, in which he made sarcastic thrusts at the evils of church selfishness. "Some people," he said, "want the church conducted on business principles. God forgive! Business principles as we know them have their origin in selfishness. The Church of God wants none of them. I become suspicious at once of a man whom I hear proclaim: 'Let us be one.' This is but an indication that he expects everybody else to embrace his creed." The Bishop is evidently an observant man. The world is full of would-be teachers who do not seem to be looking for disciples of the Master, but for people to sit at their own feet. The Bishop also said such individuals want the Vine to have only one branch, and they be that branch.

THE SHADOW of a great national disaster was flung over the whole country yesterday when the coal conference failed to agree and adjourned sine die. Every mine in the anthracite region will suspend work on Monday morning next, and will remain idle until a new agreement shall be made between the mine workers' organization and the operators. This decision was reached at a meeting at Indianapolis last night of the committee of thirty-six anthracite mine workers appointed by their Shamokin convention. John Mitchell presided. By this decision 275,000 men will quit work and full one-fourth of the coal burning people of the country will be taxed to pay the loss by whichever side sustained.

DR. CHARLES E. HEWITT, of the Divinity School of Chicago University, charges that graft is widespread among ministers of the Gospel. This is a serious charge, but it is feared it is too true.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 30.

President Roosevelt today promised Maror S. S. McNinch, of Charlotte, N. C., to send a military force to his city in May upon the occasion of the celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The President said he would order Troop E of the 13th cavalry, a company of marines, the Marine Band from Washington, and two companies of infantry from Fort McPherson, Atlanta. The people of Charlotte have for a number of years made the anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration a great local affair and this year's celebration is intended to be the most brilliant they have ever held.

"New Jersey endurance test successful. Speed 19.18." This dispatch received at the Navy Department today from the trial board which viewed yesterday's four hour endurance run of the new battleship from Mohegan Island, Me., toward Boston Light, elated the officers who claim that speed is one of the most important features in the armored ships. The performance is considered excellent, and places the New Jersey at the front of the battle fleet in regard to speed.

The expected arrest of the bookmakers at the Benning race track yesterday afternoon for the purpose of making a test case to determine whether the laws of the District are ample to uphold a prosecution did not take place.

It is reported that an arrest will be made of a bookmaker at the Benning track this afternoon so that a test case may be made to determine whether betting there is in violation of the gambling law. The weather today prevented many from being at the track who otherwise would have been there.

Secretary of War Taft officialy denied this morning the published statement that Archbishop Ireland had been designated by this government to act as its representative at Rome for the purpose of settling Philippine questions. The secretary says that the report is wholly unfounded.

It's alcohol and not white lead that is the undoing of painters, according to the report of a French commission, appointed by the French Senate to investigate the causes of the diseases and of the large number of deaths among members of this trade.

Associate Justice Harlan, of the U. S. Supreme Court, is said to have indicated his willingness to give up his future on the bench in order to take up the work of creating a big central place of worship for the Presbyterian Church, located in Washington.

Wm. L. Oliver, 35 years old, of 1014 Wisconsin avenue, had some trouble with his wife this morning and cut her throat. She was taken to the Garfield Hospital, where her wounds were dressed. The injuries are not serious. Later in the morning he went to the river front and jumped overboard, but was rescued and taken to the Georgetown University Hospital, where he told the doctors that he had also taken Rough on Rats.

The court this morning decided to grant the injunction asked for by the Typothetae in connection with the eight-hour strike by the printers.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, March 30.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session today having adjourned yesterday until Monday.

The House today in committee of the whole, gave further consideration to the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill.

HOUSE.

The House committee on public buildings and grounds practically completed work on the public building bill, today, which in the form agreed on, would carry about $20,000,000. It will not be reported for a week or ten days, and its provisions in the meantime are being withheld.

MINERS TO STRIKE.

At 10 o'clock last night the anthracite scale committee at Indianapolis, Ind., which has been formulating a proposition to submit to the operators, formally decided to order all the anthracite miners to quit work on Monday, and the order was sent out from headquarters immediately. The members of the union are advised that negotiations for a scale have failed, that the award of the strike commission expires March 31 and that they will not return to work on Monday.

A telegram was sent to President Baer notifying him of the action just taken and saying that a subcommittee of the anthracite scale committee would meet him in New York on Tuesday for the purpose of reopening negotiations. The action of the united mine officers in calling a strike in the anthracite fields is a surprise to the delegates at Indianapolis, as early yesterday evening it looked as if there would be an agreement whereby they would work 30 days longer, or while negotiations for a settlement were pending.

Without agreement on a wage scale the conferences of bituminous coal operators and miners of the central competitive district adjourned sine die yesterday, leaving affairs in such a condition that a strike of 275,000 men seems probable at the expiration of the present scale on Saturday, March 31.

The disagreement came after a struggle lasting 10 days, and disrupts the interstate agreement which has existed since 1898 between operators and miners, through which wage scales and other differences have been adjusted.

The final vote in the conference of the central competitive field, on which the other districts base their settlements, was on a motion offered by President Mitchell, of the United Mineworkers, to restore for two years the wage scale of 1903, which would have been an increase in wages of 5.55 per cent. The operators of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio voted against the proposal and defeated it. The disruption of the conference followed. Operators of western Pennsylvania and the miners of the four States voted for the proposal.

Following adjournment, National Secretary W. B. Wilson, of the mineworkers, said;

"There is no liklihood of anything further being done toward a settlement. This means suspension of work. The national convention of the miners will meet tomorrow morning. The principal business will be to determine a general policy. The question especially to be considered is whether the organization will permit miners to work in districts and mines where the advance demanded is offered."

Methodist Conference.

Bishop Wilson was present yesterday morning at the second day's session of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in Cumberland, Md., but did not preside, Bishop Warren A. Candler having charge of the proceedings and preaching the morning sermon. He talked on "Church Selfishness." He said that God forbid that the church be run on business principles, ridiculing proposed church union and condemning it in the most drastic terms.

Virginia C. Norris, of Front Royal, treasurer of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, reported $5,399.58 received during the year, which is an increase.

Miss Nina Wilson, of Baltimore, corresponding secretary, reported a healthy growth, including the establishment of the Sarah V. Wilson School in China, and the support of a mission.

The report of the treasurer of the Conference showed the following items: General fund, $2,888.59; scholarships, $1,377.75; support of missionary, $750.89. Mrs. J. H. Kuhlmann, conference corresponding secretary of the Home Missionary Society, reported 73 auxiliaries, 1,369 members, 3,816 visits made to sick and strangers, 1,660 garments distributed and 260 needy persons assisted.

Cumberland, March 30.—The Baltimore Conference M. E. Church South met for the third days session with increased attendance. The committee on members is nearly ready to report. They will recommend that time limit be changed from four to six years, and that the church ritual be changed. Dr. Collins Denny, of the Vanderbilt University, will be elected bishop to the general Conference. He succeeds Bishop Wilson, who is too feeble to continue work. The Epworth League Anniversary will be announced tonight.

The great Caney gas well fire, of Independence, Kan., is out at last. The flames were extinguished late yesterday afternoon. A posse was formed and was quickly in pursuit of the negro, who had fled when members of the family came to Miss Blair's rescue. Captured within an hour, he was hanged to a tree."

Holt, of the Corporation Court, has certified the fact to the secretary of the Commonwealth at Richmond, and the governor yesterday made proclamation to that effect. Contest Over Taxes.

One of the most interesting and far-reaching cases tried in Virginia in many years is that involving the assessment of the real estate of the commonwealth for the year 1905, which will be heard by the Supreme Court at a special session beginning on April 10th.

Public attention has already been sharply directed to the matter, but it took an interesting turn yesterday, when argument was completed before Judge Ingram, of the Law and Equity Court, upon one of the many points upon which the case is to come up.

This was an injunction proceeding, seeking to restrain Commissioner of the Revenue O. A. Hawkins, of this city, from extending the new assessment upon his books.

It was brought by Messrs. O'Flaherty and Fulton, and James E. Cannon, attorneys for certain interests, and the style of the cause is Cannon and others vs. Hawkins.

Mr. D. C. O'Flaherty and Mr. James E. Cannon argued for the injunction, and it was opposed by City Attorney H. R. Pollard and Attorney General Anderson. Commonwealth's Attorney Minetree Folkes was present on behalf of the city, but did not speak. The decision of the court will be handed down later, but whatever it may be, the matter will be taken up to the court of last resort by consent.

The matter before the Hustings Court is that of D. C. O'Flaherty, substituted trustee for the estate of Franklin Stearnes, and the Whitlock estate, represented by Mr. Cannon. This, too, will go up along with the first one, and the third will be a mandamus proceeding by these interested, seeking to require the commission to extend the old assessment instead of the new one upon the books.

Attorney-General Anderson is busy preparing his answer in the latter cause, in which the Supreme Court has original jurisdiction.

It will be a great legal battle and one over a subject of vital importance to the people and the State.

Many questions will be raised, and the case will be fought out on all conceivable points, so that the settlement by the court will be at once final.

The issue was raised first by Mr. Cannon in the Hustings Court, where he was appealing from certain assessments made upon the property of his clients by the board of assessors.

He contended that the act of 1903-4 under which the assessors proceeded was unconstitutional, because it received two votes less in the Senate than the constitution requires. Again Mr. Cannon contended that a subsequent act passed by the last legislature, seeking to cure this constitutional defect in the previous one was null and void, upon the ground that the legislature could not, by a subsequent act, validate one that was clearly involved. He further asserted that the recent act itself could not apply, for it would thus be retroactive in its operations.

The city and State attorneys are preparing their side in a most exhaustive manner, and feel sure they will be able to break down the contentions of those who are making the fight for their clients.

The decision of the court of last resort will be earnestly awaited by the public, as the questions involved fairly bristle with public interest.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

The Miners and Operators.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 30.—All records have been broken by the important series of conventions which mine operators and the employes brought to a close in this city late yesterday. Both for operators and miners, the convention has been very costly. The miners' regular convention first met January 16, and the 1200 delegates continued in session until January 25, when the miners met the operators, numbering about 500, in a joint conference, which lasted until February 2. Miners and operators then returned to their homes, but, at the request of President Roosevelt, they reassembled in March. The miners resumed their deliberations March 15, and according to the miners' transportation committee's report today 1,037 delegates have been here since then. The miners' transportation bill for the reconvened session was $15,520. Miners' delegates are allowed from $5 to $6 per day by their local to offset loss of wages and hotel expenses. It is estimated that at $5 per day average, the two conventions have cost the miners' organization $200,000. The expenses of the operators, not including their loss of money-making time, is figured at about $150,000, for the two conventions. The total cost of the endeavor to settle the mine wage scale it is said, will exceed $450,000. Neither the operators nor the miners' organizations have considered the cost of their meetings. Both sides maintain that it is a great principle for which they are contending and that no cost is too great to settle a principle.

New York, March 30.—The meeting of the anthracite miners and operators in this city Tuesday to discuss their differences with the view of affecting an adjustment is regarded as a mere formality and no settlement is anticipated or thought likely. The positions of both the operators and miners are apparently unalterable and with a general strike in the anthracite field going into effect on Monday the temper of the conferees will not be improved. The miners are fixed in their demands for union recognition, an eight hour day, and an increase in wages. The operators are equally firm in the declination of these demands and make a counter proposition that the miners continue for another three years under the award of the anthracite commission. This counter proposition will be refused without doubt.

Scranton, Pa., March 30.—Every mine worker in this district, except the steam men, will lay down their tools on Monday in obedience to the order sent out by John Mitchell, and their district presidents and work will not be resumed until Mr. Mitchell orders the men back to work. The operators will in all likelihood try to operate some of their mines, but they no doubt will meet with considerable difficulty, since the men are well organized and already hundreds of foreigners have left the region in anticipation of a strike. The impression here is that the suspension will be brief.

New York, March 30.—George F. Baer, president of the Reading Railroad Company and chairman of the committee which has been conferring with the miners, today sent the following telegram to John Mitchell, from Philadelphia.

"Philadelphia, March 30.

"John Mitchell, Indianapolis, Ind.

"Is it true, that, pending negotiations, you have, as stated in the newspapers, ordered your followers not to work in the anthracite mines after April first?

"GEORGE F. BAER."

Indianapolis, Ind., March 30.—The communication from the operators regarding an appeal to President Roosevelt was acted on at the miner's conference this morning. Delegate Ryan moved that the communication be received and placed on file among other memorials for future reference. The motion was carried.

The question of signing the scale in Individual districts, as asked for by F. L. Robbins, was taken up. President Mitchell, disclaiming to speak for the convention, said that so far as he was concerned, any operator signing for his mines in one State must sign for all his mines in any other State.

Excitement at a Hanging.

Baltimore, Md, March 30.—At 10:30 this morning the wildest disorder prevails at Towson, the seat of Baltimore county, where the authorities are endeavoring to hang Isaac Winder, colored murderer and jail breaker. The people in their excitement have torn down the barricades erected about the jail yards and the police are unable to cope with them. Trees and housetops alike are filled with masses of excited humanity. The crowd is so dense that it is impossible for a sheriff to execute the negro. He cannot even be gotten to the scaffold. Sheriff Elliot expects to carry out the law within the next hour, but at this time it looks hopeless. This city may be asked for police aid or the governor may have to call out the militia to keep the mad crowd back.

Baltimore, March 30.—Isaac Winder the negro murderer was hanged at Towson at 11:40 this morning. The condemned man struggled and fought desperately for ten minutes until he was beaten into submission by Sheriff Elliott, Chief of Police Street, deputy sheriff Anderson and two assistants, and placed over the trap and his body finally launched into eternity. It was the most exciting scene ever witnessed at a hanging in Maryland.

Winder murdered an aged toll gate keeper named Reinhardt, a few weeks ago. He broke jail soon after his arrest successfully eluding pursuit for eight days. He was finally captured and locked up in the Baltimore city jail until last night when he was removed to Towson.

Ambassador Storer Ill.

Vienna, March 30.—Bellamy Storer, the retiring United States Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, who returned here yesterday from Egypt, is suffering from a high fever, and Dr. Caufers, the attending physician, reports that he is seriously ill. It is quite likely, it is now stated, that Mr. Storer will remain in Vienna until June. Foreign Minister Goluchowski is still absent from the city, so that no steps have been taken looking to the arrangements for the presentation of Mr. Storer's letters of recall.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 23.—The early weakness in Reading caused sympathetic selling and the advance in Brooklyn Rapid Transit caused a temporary improvement and held prices fairly steady until the call rate of money reached seven per cent., induced general selling by room traders and caused renewed heaviness. Commission houses were general buyers of stocks on reactions.

The President and the Coal Strike.

Washington, March 30.—The coal strike seems to be up to President Roosevelt. This morning he received the telegram sent by the operators at Indianapolis containing the resolutions passed there last night requesting that he appoint a commission to investigate the bituminous coal situation in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania and to report to the President its findings of facts and recommendations. The President will give the matter earnest consideration, but it is likely that before he shall take any definite steps toward the creation of such a commission he will ascertain the desires of the miners in the premises. If the President follows the precedent established in 1902 he will now proceed to obtain the consent of President Mitchell and the other representatives of the miners to this method of settling the pending controversy which threatens to become even more serious than the strike of 1902.

In the former case, the President acted in an unofficial capacity in bringing the operators and miners together. In the present, he will doubtless be able to act under the law creating the Department of Commerce and Labor which was not in existence when the Anthracite Commission was appointed. This law sets forth that the province and duty of the Department shall be, among other things, to develop the mining, manufacturing and labor interests of the United States. Further, the law imposes upon the head of the department the duty of making "from time to time such special investigations and reports as he may be required to do by the President." As the law was passed in the winter following the anthracite strike, it is assumed that the legislators had in mind the possibility of another great strike taking place, and thus made provision for the contingency.

The President this morning gave out the following telegram received from President John Mitchell, of the Mineworkers Union, and Francis L. Robbins, one of the operators.

"Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.

"Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Washington, D. C.

"Responding to your suggestion, we have fulfilled our highest duties as citizens of our country by advocating a bituminous coal scale on a reasonable compromise. We understand that a telegram has been sent to you tonight purporting to speak for 80 per cent. of the bituminous tonnage. That telegram does not represent the real facts. At least one-half of the total tonnage in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois is produced by operators who are willing to pay the compromise scale.

"JOHN MITCHELL,
"FRANCIS L. ROBBINS."

The telegram received from the operators, to which the above message referred, was as follows:

"Indianapolis, March 29.

"The President, Washington.

"I have the honor of transmitting to you the resolution, passed by coal operators assembled in this city.

(signed) "JOHN H. WINDER,
"Chairman."

The President was busily engaged this morning preparing a reply to the telegram of the operators and arranging for further development of the situation. He decided to take no steps whatever until after consultation with the members of the Cabinet. At the regular semi-weekly meeting this morning he went over the entire matter with his official advisers.

The Cabinet today was in session two hours and a half, most of which time was occupied in discussing the coal strike situation. Secretary Loeb announced that the President had not yet answered the telegram received from the operators, and that probably there would be no definite step taken by the President in the matter today.

If the President follows the advice given him by members of the cabinet at today's meeting, he will not interfere in the coal strike situation at this time. He was counselled by some of the most astute members of that body, so it is understood, that it would be highly inadvisable for him to appoint a commission now. It was pointed out that the miners and operators have not yet exhausted all the means at their disposal of preventing a strike.

To interfere at this time, it was argued, would establish a bad precedent, and might encourage future strikes, as it would give the impression that no matter how just might be the cause of either side, the President would be ready at any time to enter the situation and attempt to effect a settlement. It is believed that these arguments had considerable weight with the President, as the announcement was made officially after today's meeting that nothing had been determined upon as yet.

Miners Rescued.

Lens, France, March 30.—Eighteen miners who were entombed in the Courriere mine at the time of the great fire disaster there on March 10, were taken alive from the mine this morning by a searching party which has engaged in exploring the mine. The men had lived for twenty days shut off from the light and almost deprived of air. With one exception they were all well when reached by the rescuers, although they could not have lived much longer. When they were cut off from escape by the explosion and fire which followed the miners took refuge in a stable used for the mules employed in the mine. They had subsisted for days on the lunches of their dead comrades which had been taken down on the day of the disaster. When this food had been exhausted, they restorted to eating wheat and oats which were kept in the stable for the mules. Water was also found and in this manner the entombed miners managed to sustain their lives. One of the rescued miners was a boy of fourteen, who had endured the hardships to which all had been subjected with all the courage manifested by his seniors. The surviving miners were rescued at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The exact number of deaths has never been ascertained, but it has been estimated at about 1,200.

Archbishop Ireland in Rome.

Rome, March 30.—Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, who has been in Rome for several days, has not yet been received in audience by the Pope. The Jesuit opponents of Monsignor Ireland are doing their utmost to poison the mind of the Pontiff against the archbishop by representing that he was an accomplice in the recent efforts, which, it is understood, Mrs. Storer, wife of the retiring United States Ambassador at Vienna, made to capture a cardinal's hat for Archbishop Ireland.

Railroad Accident.

Philadelphia, March 30.—At twenty-five minutes past one o'clock this afternoon, two Pennsylvania railroad fliers collided in one of the tunnels in west Philadelphia, west of Thirty-second street. The force of the collision set fire to a Pullman car attached to the rear of a flier bound west and the passengers in the car were soon panicky and shrieked for help. The burning car was hid from view, but smoke emerging from the tunnel gave indication that it would be a total wreck. No one was injured.

Appointed Vatican Astronomer.

Rome, March 30.—The Pope has appointed Father Hagen, a Jesuit astronomer, head of the Vatican observatory. In 1888 Father Hagen was at the head of the Georgetown University observatory. The new honor has been conferred on him because he is a specialist in celestial photography, and in recognition of his valuable contributions to scientific literature in the shape of astronomical essays.

Arrest of a Teller.

New York, March 30.—Joseph H. Turney, for over 30 years a note teller in the National Bank of North America, was committed to the Tombs this morning by Magistrate Moss, in the Centre street police court, without bail, on a charge preferred by the president of the bank, Albert H. Curtis, of the larceny of $34,000. The peculation is said to have extended over a period of five years.

Woman's Weird Occult Power.

A story of a woman's devotion to an Indian idol and of her mysterious power of transferring her physical ailments to her friends was told Tuesday during a suit in the Superior Court in Chicago, to break a will. Mrs. Ada L. Garrus and her husband, Dr. Ninus Garrus, are seeking to break the will made by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth L. Taylor. The bulk of a $100,000 estate was left to others.

The deposition of a Paris physician, Hippolite Ferdinand Barraduc, which was read in Court, stated that Mrs. Taylor had traveled from Peoria, Ill., to India in search of a mysterious fountain of health. "She had theosophy, spiritualism, occult science," said the physician, "and a mysterious power of transmitting her afflictions to a second person by merely holding the latter's hands in her own. On one occasion, when the daughter had spent the night grasping her mother's hands, so as to take the ills upon herself, she was attacked with a strange coldness. Her blood congealed. She uttered frightful screams, and had to be relieved by electricity. My patient also offered sacrifices at the temples of Siva and Doga, near an Indian river that winds through the heart of a great jungle."

Dr. Garrus, a magnetic masseur, who treated Mrs. Taylor, married the daughter, and both were cut off.

I. O. R. M.

Osceola Tribe, No. 1, I. O. R. M., assembled in regular meeting at their wigwam on Columbus street last night and after disposing of customary routine business, under the leadship of their Sachem, John Abendschein, took the trail followed by more than fifty chiefs braves and warriors for Mr. F. Schwab's dining rooms. Advance scouts having given notice of the friendly night attack, the proprietor was fully prepared for the invasion and the tribe found themselves hospitably welcomed by a member of their order to quarters studded with decorations, the more noticeable of which were the American flag and other patriotic emblems. The most attractive feature, however, of the occasion was the temptingly prepared table laden with deliciously prepared oysters. Sachem Abendschein, surrounded by his station officers, presided and the festive board soon became a social session for enjoyment by all present. Chief of Records Chas. Nagel made a short talk on the origin of the order, its tenets and benefits. Past Sachem Harry McLearan made many pleasing remarks, while thanking the tribe for the honor conferred in choosing him as its representative at the Grand Council to be held May next at Portsmouth. Social repartee and jollity was the order of the evening.

The Potomac.

A dispatch from Williamsport, Md., says that fear of a second rise in the Potomac river, which has been flooded since Wednesday, was caused by additional rains yesterday, and though the water has slightly receded, it is not thought that the danger is over. The river continued rising until late Wednesday night and yesterday morning had reached its highest, the water being within a few feet of overflowing the towpath of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal below town. Increased alarm is felt now that the rain is falling and another rise may flood the canal. The river has been out of banks at Williamsport, flooding but half of the lowland between the canal and river. At Powells Bend, a mile below town, it is reported that there is still a quantity of snow in the mountains, and its melting will increase the danger of another and probably more serious freshet. A lot of cut timber and trees have been swept away by the flood along the river, but no property, so far as known, has been damaged. The public road along the Conocoheague creek at Williamsport is under water, owing to the rise in the stream.

There was a current in the river this morning at this place, and twigs, chips, limbs of trees, &c., have borne along on the bosom of the stream. There was a high tide this morning.

The New Railroad Yard.

Considerable progress has been made in the past few months on the railroad freight yard in the neighborhood of St. Elmo, a short distance north of Alexandria, and it is understood that by the middle of April the railroad company will take complete possession and establish this as a freight terminal. Twenty-five of the forty-two miles of track which will connect with the main through line crossing the new railway bridge into Washington city have been laid, and a large force of men is at work ballasting and finally straightening the lines. The tracks have been laid on what is known as the gravity system in order that through trains may be made up without the use of yard locomotives, or their use to a very limited extent. The foundation has been completed, and steel girders are being laid for a freight transfer house, which will be over 600 feet in length, and bricklayers are at work on four large machine and repair shops. Machinery has been placed in the pump house on the banks of the Potomac river and in the electric light power house near the roundhouse. Poles have been erected and telegraph, telephone and electric light wires have been carried to every part of the yard.

"The Village Fool."

Plenty of laughter is promised those who see "The Village Fool" at the Opera House on Monday, April 2. The play is a rural comedy drama, which has met with great success since its production last spring, and is one of the higher class of domestic comedies. Mr. Frank Owens, who created the character of "Old Ninny Noggins, The Village Fool" will appear in his original character, and much is promised by the manager, A. Q Scammon, in the way of an elaborate scenic investiture and a most complete and capable company. Pure, clean refined comedy is always welcome, and with an unusually strong and telling story much can safely be expected by and assured to those who attend the entertainment.

Athletic Sports.

The second annual contest of the athletic association of the Episcopal High School will be held in the new gymnasium, on the high-school grounds, near this city, tomorrow evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. The contest will attract a large audience. The committee of arrangements is D. B. Williams, captain; R. W. Wood, W. Q. Gallaher, C. W. Shields, and J. G. Easley, and the officers of the association are H. E. Bateman, president; B. M. Fontaine, manager of the the track and gymnasium department, and D. B. Williams, captain of the gymnasium team.

Another Shoe Factory.

It is understood that the Alexandria Shoe Manufacturing Company will soon be reorganized by Alexandrians and that operations will be commenced at an early date on quite an extensive scale. It is said that practical men, well informed as to the manufacture of shoes, will be employed and those most interested say they have no doubt of the success of the enterprise. The capital, it is understood, is to be entirely from Alexandrians.

Sudden Death.

A huckster named Hoseman, living near Vienna, Fairfax county, left his home in his wagon for Washington yesterday morning. After disposing of his produce he started on his return and when passing through West End, Falls Church, took a colored man in the wagon with him. The two conversed for some time and when they reached home Mr. Hoseman failed to respond to questions and the colored man started to lift him from the wagon when, to his amazement, he found that Mr. Hoseman was dead. Heart disease was the cause. Mr. Hoseman had not been in good health for some time. Several years ago he lost one of his legs.

Tour of Inspection.

President William Josiah Leake, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac and Washington-Southern Railways, made an official inspection trip over his roads yesterday, from Richmond to Washington and return, leaving in his private car at 12:10 o'clock in the afternoon, passing through Alexandria twenty minutes later, and reaching Richmond last evening at 7:15 o'clock. In the party were Assistant to the President W. P. Duke, General Traffic Manager Warren P. Taylor, Mr. Alexander Hamilton, vice-president of the Atlantic Coast Line, and Messrs. Hill Carter and Frank C. Christian

The run of 116 miles to Washington was made in three hours over the new double track, except thirteen miles between Quantico and Alexandria, where the work has not yet been completed, and the old track is still being used. When in May or June the entire work has been completed, except one mile at Freestone, the distance between Richmond and Washington will be cut down to 114 miles and the regular schedule will be two hours and forty minutes.

There is in contemplation, when the new work is finished to and through Washington, to run a train from Richmond to New York, leaving Richmond at 11 o'clock at night and reaching New York between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

Returning the train will leave New York between 11 o'clock and midnight and will reach Richmond about 7 o'clock the following morning, the same train carrying the Chesapeake and Ohio Hot Springs coaches to Washington, thus accommodating both Richmond and Hot Springs travel.

The R. F., & P. R. R.

President Leake, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, left Richmond yesterday, over the road for a tour of inspection. With him are his assistant, Mr. Duke, and Traffic Manager Taylor.

The road will begin next week to improve the freight yard at Milford, where there are a number of manufacturing establishments. It is one of the largest shipping points on the road.

Mr. Duke said that the statement that the new double track road between Richmond and Washington would cut off ten miles was incorrect.

"The new line will be less than two miles shorter than the old one, and I know nothing of making any reduction in the fare between Richmond and Washington."

Congressional.

Messrs. Clay and Carmack made the principal speeches on the rate bill in the Senate yesterday. The discussion was enlivened by a colloquy between Messrs. Aldrich and Dolliver over the former attributing to the latter interpretations of certain clauses of the pending bill which Mr. Dolliver denied he had made. Mr. Hale again criticised the increase in the army medical corps, and he and Mr. Warren had a passage at arms over the respective merits of the army and navy. The Senate adjourned till Monday.

Much headway was made in the House in the consideration of the legislative bill. It is expected that the measure will be concluded today. The conference report on the bill to reorganize the consular service was agreed to.

[COMMUNICATED.

The Police Force.

I desire to suggest in regard to our policemen would it not to be better to get rid of such, as Mr. Leadbeater says, that neglect their duty, rather than bunch the entire lot and reduce the salary, thereby placing the faithful with the unfaithful and by cutting down their salary, doing a very unjust act. There are some good and tried men on the list. I remember of one who was evidently too energetic some few years ago to please those in authority, and is in the ranks because of his conscientious execution of his duty. So what constitutes duty seems to differ in different minds. I can't see how they can manage to live on less, unless by a miracle they can eat and digest shavings. Alexandrians should have some pride in their native home, and show it by upholding the right by being just. I am no Alexandrian by birth, but do feel an interest in it.

Chair Used by Washington.

Dr. L. M. Foster, superintendent of the Eastern State hospital, Williamsburg, is also master of the Masonic Lodge at that place. He says his lodge, which is No. 6, has the master's chair presented to the lodge by Lord Botetourt in 1765, three years before the grand lodge of Virginia was organized. The chair is of heavy mahogany, is hand carved, and contains many of the Masonic emblems, many of which indicate that Lord Botetourt belonged to the Scottish Rite branch of the order.

The chair was used by Gen. George Washington at the laying of the corner-stone of the original Capitol building, at Washington, and its next public use was at the laying of the corner-stone of the Yorktown monument, when President Chester A. Arthur occupied it during the ceremonies.

Dr. Foster said that if the lodges at Washington desire the use of the chair for April 7, when the corner-stone for the office building for House members is to be laid, for President Roosevelt, it would be loaned, as members of the lodge would be called to consider the request. He said there would not be the least objection to making the loan for the occasion.—[Fredericksburg Lance.

Lied to Save Child Shame.

There was a dramatic scene in Judge Taylor's Court at St. Louis, Mo., on Tuesday, when the judge in pursuance of duty, relentlessly unmasked a black-garbed wife seeking divorce on the grounds of cruelty and drunkenness, and revealed her as one of "Mrs. Warren's Profession." And the scene was not without an element of pathos.

The woman confessed to the judge in the end that she had lied under oath, deliberately and repeatedly, to hide her own real self from her own child, now a child of 18, reared in a convent in a firm belief that her mother was all that every mother should be.

Mrs. Florence Knecht, the woman, said she was married to Samuel Knecht in 1898 at Waterloo, Ill. She said he drank to excess, mistreated her and deserted her after three weeks. Her case seemed strong until Judge Taylor cross-examined her. Then, after forcing admission of her mode of life from her, he dismissed the case.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Fight in Japanese Parliament.

The correspondent at Tokio of the London Daily Telegraph reports that the submission of the House of Peers amendments to the bill for the nationalization of railways to the House of Representatives Tuesday night caused a free fight, a considerable exchange of blows, and the tearing of clothes among members. Eventually the police were summoned, restored order, and closed the doors in order to frustrate the attempt of the opposition to leave the House in a body. The bill was then adopted by a vote of 214, the opposition declining to record its vote, as it considered the government's action in the matter inconsistent with the principle of constitutional government.

Investigations Costly.

With the investigations ordered by the last legislature little more than begun, the bill of costs against the State is $1,355,61. This will be doubled when the printing of the evidence is paid for. The "Clowes fitness investigation" and the tampering with bills committee are small affairs to what the investigation of the Eastern State Hospital, the inquiry into the hazing cases at the Virginia Military Institute and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the investigation of the high price of school books will cost.

Riotous Strikers.

Conductors and motormen of the Winnipeg Street Railway in Winnipeg, Manitoba, yesterday went on a strike for higher wages. Scenes of violence followed attempts to run the cars. A howling mob of sympathizers gathered and showered brick, stones and mud on every car. Drivers of drays blocked traffic by driving on the tracks. Wires were cut and switches opened, and finally the attempt to run cars was abandoned. In the cars were strike-breakers armed with baseball bats, which they used freely. Many fights occurred, and the city police were busy making arrests. The most seriously injured were two pickets of the strikers at the car barns. Mayor Sharpe issued a proclamation asking the co-operation of all citizens in maintaining order and stating that the law in regard to disorder and disturbances would be rigorously enforced. A large force of special police has been sworn in. On account of yesterday's incidents the company has requested military protection.

Minister Arraigned.

Rev. L. M. McDermott was arraigned for a hearing yesterday before the Baptist Church council of West Virginia at Wheeling, accused of being unorthodox. He contributed an article to a Wheeling newspaper recently in which he said the Bible had been so garbled in translation and revision that it was untrustworthy. He also said that from lack of evidence to the contrary he had to conclude that Jesus was an impostor, or else the church was a fraud on society. Yesterday morning the council refused to permit him to read a paper which he said he prepared in self-defense, and went into executive session, excluding the press and the defendant. Mr. McDermott's change of views is said to have been brought about by the growth in his mind of socialistic doctrines. Yesterday afternoon, before the executive session, he refused to admit the divinity of Christ, but said he believed him to be the Son of God.

Out of Debt.

The joint committees on finance and ways and means of the Maryland legislature agreed yesterday to reduce the tax rate from 23½ cents to 16 cents. The reduction in the rate, which is due to the sale of the state's stock in the Washington branch, is 7½ cents, or more than $500,000 on the present taxable basis. All charges for sinking fund and interest have been wiped out, the income of $90,000 from the Northern Central annuity and the annual surpluses in the treasury being sufficient to meet all of this indebtedness.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Nothing More Delicious

than that WHITE CLOVER HONEY we are offering you. It is the clearest and best ever sold on this market and would bring fancy prices elsewhere. We have a few pounds left and are going to sacrifice it right here at home at 15c a pound section. Order quick.

It's a genuine pleasure to see how many of those FAT PRUNES we send out in a day. Price still the same—4 pounds for a quarter.

Josh Billings said, "If you have to go out before breakfast, eat your breakfast first." If he were here today he would add "At least drink a strong cup of Yates's Bourbon Coffee." It's the right thing in the right place and invigorates the system like no other Coffee.
